Course overview

The distinctiveness of this programme lies in the offer of a work placement with a professional dance company of between five and nine months. Students work alongside professional dancers at their chosen host company, experiencing the creation, rehearsal, production and touring of a professional performance programme or project, including any related education and community outreach work. Whilst on their placement, students are supported by a tutor at NSCD. The placement experience is supplemented by a wide range of technical and creative work delivered at NSCD, which can include performance platforms, classes with VERVE and research-based activities. Crucially, students develop an understanding of the wider skills required of a professional dance artist, through small-scale projects, introductions to local networks and workshop teaching.

Companies in which students have previously been placed include:

tanzmainz, 2Faced Dance Company, ACE Dance and Music, Company Chameleon, Phoenix Dance Theatre, Protein Dance, Black Box Dance Company (Denmark), Tavaziva, Candoco Dance Company, Mark Bruce Company, Stopgap Dance Company and Motionhouse.

The course operates on a modular basis. Most modules count for 30 or 60 academic Level 7 credits, with the final major research project being worth 60 credits. Each credit taken equates to a total study time of around 10-20 hours. Total study time includes scheduled teaching, independent study, directed study and assessment activity. Students on this programme take modules worth approximately 60 credits per term. All students take a total of 180 credits for the MA as a whole.

Level 7 (Autumn Term) develops a systematic understanding of knowledge, and a critical awareness of current problems and / or new insights, much of which is at, or informed by, the forefront of the dance discipline. There is a focus towards a comprehensive understanding of techniques and creativity which may later be applicable to their own research or advanced scholarship. This term focuses on technique and performance skills with a development of advanced 'practice as research' methodologies.

Level 7 (Spring & Early Summer Term) There is opportunity to bring originality in the application of knowledge, together with a practical understanding of how established techniques and enquiry are used to create and interpret knowledge in the discipline. It is expected in this term that students demonstrate self-direction and originality in tackling and solving problems, and act autonomously in planning and implementing tasks at a professional level, in order to continue advancing their knowledge and understanding, and to develop new skills to a high level. The focus of this term is the further development and application of technique and performance skills, through intensive periods of rehearsal and performance.

Level 7 (Extended Summer Term) During the third term of study (usually early June to August) students from all of our MA Programmes undertake a substantial independent or collaborative project and carry out research at an advanced level, relative to the field of study. The research project facilitates in-depth investigation into an aspect of contemporary dance practice, likely to be drawn from the experience and learning encountered through an earlier aspect of their course. The MA stage of study is characterised by practice as research, with the guidance of a supervising tutor or mentor. Students who do not complete this term of study (Stage Two) may be eligible for an award of Postgraduate Diploma (PGDip).

Timetables: Timetables are normally available one month before registration. Please note that while we make every effort to ensure that timetables are as student-friendly as possible, scheduled teaching can take place on any day of the week.

Teaching and learning

You are taught through a combination of practical classes and workshops, lectures and seminars. Seminars and small group tutorials enable you to discuss and develop your understanding of topics covered in smaller groups. In addition, you have timetabled meetings with your academic tutors. You use industry-standard facilities throughout your course.

At Level 7 (as a guide) you typically have around 24-30 contact hours per week, typically consisting of:

- 24-30 hours of work-based placement activity, constructed through an individually negotiated learner plan (INLP)

Placements: Placements are embedded into the whole programme. These consist of intensive periods of rehearsal and production with an assigned company and/or through teaching outreach activities, where students have external placements in school or community contexts. All placements at NSCD adhere to the QAA code of practice for 'working with others'.

Teaching staff

You will be taught by an experienced teaching team whose expertise and knowledge are closely matched to the content of the modules on the course. The team includes senior academics who are dance artists in their own right, professional practitioners with industry experience, demonstrators and technical officers. NSCD typically commissions around six companies to offer placements, as well as inviting a significant number of visiting guest artists to deliver aspects of the curriculum including daily classes and workshops. For more information on who will be teaching you visit our staff biography pages: www.nscd.ac.uk/about/people

Independent learning

When not attending timetabled sessions you will be expected to continue learning independently through self-study. Typically, this will involve reading journal articles and books, working on individual and group projects, undertaking research in the library, preparing coursework assignments and presentations, and preparing for assessments. Students also use independent study time for using the gym and attending / having rehearsals. Your independent learning is supported by a range of excellent facilities, including online library resources and online access to Moodle (our Virtual Learning Environment or VLE).

Assessment and feedback

NSCD employs a wide variety of assessment methods including formative, continuous and summative assessment.

Assessment evidence is collected through:

- Continuous and summative assessments in technique modules, creative and performance modules
- Assessed rehearsal processes
- Showings of performance, choreographic work, improvisation and movement research
- Lecture demonstrations
- Written essays and dissertations
- Written / verbal project reports and evaluations / reflections
- Individual and small group verbal presentations
- Observation of teaching practice
- Viva Voce

Students receive ongoing feedback in practical classes and through the tutorial system in which professional and academic development are considered and evaluated. Through placement, students have a professional mentor within the company who will offer formative feedback in all areas of their placement activities. Achievement is measured against module assessment criteria and in accordance with programme and module learning outcomes. Students must meet the specific attendance requirements for the programme.

Overall workload

Your overall workload consists of class contact hours, around 24-30 hours per week plus independent learning which is expected to be at least 2 hours per module, rehearsals (varies according to each company's schedule) and assessment activity, with each credit taken equating to a total study time of around 32 hours. While your actual contact hours may depend varying aspects of delivery e.g. intensive rehearsal periods or technical weeks or touring, the following information gives an indication of how much time you will need to allocate to different activities at each level of the course.

Level 7: 90% per cent of your time is spent in teaching and learning activities in combination with the companies and/or at NSCD.
